

2020 UNI 3 Credit Hour Workshop for IHSSA Members

Once again UNI Department of Communication and Media will partner with IHSSA to provide 3 Credit Hours (undergraduate or graduate) in Argumentation and Debate for Teachers. The course will run from October through the end of the semester in December.

The course covers the following:

- I. Research: Sources, Analysis, Application
- II. Evidential Support: Making Choices, Making Decisions, Applying Evidence to the topics
- III. Argumentation: How to Use Evidence and Logic to Create Cases
- IV. Case Building: Putting Research, Evidence, Arguments, and Logic Together to Build Cases of Both Sides of an Issue
- V. Types/Genre of Debates
- VI. Actual Case Building

More information will be available via Zoom during the IHSSA Virtual Meeting and through emails. You MUST attend all 4 sessions of the virtual convention to take this course. Plus judge certification sometime this year... either through the summer event, in person this fall or the virtual certification on Oct. 10th

This course is offered through cooperation of the Division of Continuing Education and the Department of Communication and Media. Marilyn Shaw and Melissa Beall are the Instructors of this course. Tuition is reduced because of this long-standing cooperative venture among IHSSA, Communication and Media, and Continuing Education.
